generic space shooter. generic space shooter game

Surprising little twin-stick shooter. Unlocking ships and choosing which ship to play keeps you coming back. I don't think it'll keep me hooked past 5 hours, but the price point is spot on for that.. For three bucks, Generic Space Shooter is exactly what you pay for. It's a simple twin-stick wave clearing shooter where grabbing power-up isn't just a bonus, but how to survive. Unlike other twin-stick shooters, you have an ammo count and powerups temporarily disable the count from going down. Not a bad twist on an asteroid clone. If you like arcade shooters like asteroids, sinister, geometry wars and the like, you'll get some entertainment out of the Generic Space Shooter. It's a good game to have on your laptop to kill some time during lunch and break.. Great and can run on any computer. Fun timewaster for cheap.. Its alright but a total pain in theu2665u2665u2665u2665u2665finding a guide. i have no idea what the ammo stat or power up even do.. Great game to kill some time.. "pew pew" - GSS 2016. A fun little game, though a bit too hard perhaps, at least for me, but well worth the price.. Farly good game. Wish it had a better movement system tho. While the left mouse button to fire the weapon was good and the space bar for the special was good, and using the mouse to aim was meh, the right click to accelerate sucked. Needs an option to use keyboard instead of mouse, for instance traditional ASDW keys would've been ideal with WS being thrust and brake respectively. Paid $2.99 for it.
